About Us

Scott and Becca Osborne bring a well-rounded and strategic perspective to the aerial photography industry. Becca contributes a strong creative and visual storytelling background, supported by five years of experience in marketing. This enables her to craft imagery that resonates with your target audience and enhances your brand's message.

Scott complements this with over 12 years of experience in construction project management, giving him a deep understanding of the technical and logistical needs of clients in that space. Together, our combined expertise allows us to deliver aerial photography solutions that are not only visually compelling but also aligned with industry-specific requirements.

All service providers are licensed and insured.
